It usually happens, however, that of the new and the old appropriations, a sum of five or six millions remains uncalled for at the commencement 6,736,232 34 of each year-and hence no real deficit is then anticipated, nor much, if any, excess, after defraying all the expenditures then chargeable to the Treasury.

The Imports during the year ending September 30th, 1834, are estimated in value at $123,093,351-being, compared with the preceding year, an increase of $14,-101,541. Those during the three past years have, on an average, been about $111,038,142.

As appears by the documents annexed, the Government has about $6,343,400 subject to general use, inprudently retrenched from the expenditures connected vested in the United States Bank stock, and the sum of $1,882,500 invested in different canal stocks; and the yet it is manifest, that very soon the amount required proceeds of the sales of which, if authorized in any unfor those public purposes must become still more di- expected deficiency, would, in most cases, prove amply minished, and as our impost duties will be further re- sufficient, without any resort to an increased tariff. This result has been attained by considering the boats, and the necessity for others, from time to time, unavailable portion of our funds then and now on hand, would seem to be, in some degree, fitly associated. As at the reduced sum of about $1,150,000, instead or a measure likely to lead to economy, in not extending of the country, and in fixing their exact localities important to the safety of our navigation and navy, d is respectfully recommended, that in the survey now in progress, Congr ss should require the latitude and longitude of every light-house to be carefully ascertained and published, the importance of its position to be inquired into, and that no new one be hereafter erected, till a report is made in respect to its public benefits by the two collectors and the commander of the Navy Yard nearest the proposed site.

The rebuilding of the Treasury edifice, on or near its former location, with the dimensions of the building enlarged so as to meet the wants of the department, and rendered fire-proof for the security of its papers, seems indipensable to its convenient operations, and to the safety of some of the most valuable records connected with the public archives.

The Indian titles having, of late years, been more extensively extinguished, the quantity of valuable lands brought into market has increased in amount, so as to place in the Treasury over three millions annually, instead of about one million, as was the case twenty years ago. Within the same period, the land offices have been augmented in number from about eighteen to fiftythree, in actual operation in 1834. These circumstances have added much to the business of that Bureau, and should clearly lead to a corresponding increase of its clerks, or a separation from it of some of its present laborious duties; as the diminution in other business, in me other bureaus might lead to reductions in the number of their clerks, to the extent proposed in the plan soon to be submitted, in the re-organization of the Treasury Department.

Attempts have been made, during the year, with some success, to simplify the mode of making entries in the General Land Office of the sales effected; some difficult and long-delayed questions of accounts have been decided; greater local accommodations and facilities furnished to the office; and increased convenience and promptitude, as far as practicable with the present force of the Bureau, have been introduced in the ascertainment of titles, and in the collection and disbursement of the large amount of revenue derived from this source -But new legislation can alone give entire relief, in the present condition of its enlarged duties, and at least $30,000 a year, for ten years, will be required to be expended in additional clerk hire, to dispose of all the writing in arrear, and that may be hereafter rendered necessary by the additional sales.

It gives me much pleasure to state, that among more than fifty offices and one hundred Receivers and Registers connected with the present system of land sales, amenable to the Secretary of the Treasury, and under his control as to their collections, not one, during the past year, has proved to be a defaulter, although the money collected and paid over has probably exceeded

FOR CONGRESS---DISTRICT

No. 4-JAMES RUSSELL, of West Cambridge.

We have placed upon the First Page of this paper, copious extracts from the very able and interesting Report of Mr Secretary Woodbury-an individual who, as a gentleman, a scholar and a politician, does honer to the country.

The character, conduct and condition of the opposition party must secure pity, where they do not excite contempt. The history of that party for the last few years, has no parallel in the political history of the country, whether we consider the disreputable measures attempted, the dishonerable means resorted to, to give those measures effect, or the prompt rebuke they have both received at the hands of an honest and intelligent people. It is now generally conceded that the Whigs of '34, the National Republicans of '28, and the Federalists, or tories, of an earlier period, are one and the same party in fact and principle, under different names, assumed only to give currency to their anti-Republican, anti-American doctrines. The reception these principles have met with from the people, notwithstanding the different disguises they have assumed, shows that they, at least, look at professions with suspicion, and regard with favor those actions only which promise to and assist in the perpetaation of their favorite principles. The contest of '36 will find the Whigs rallying under a different name, only to meet the same fate-defeat and disgrace.

Influenzical. - Almost every man, woman and child within five hundred miles of this ancient metropolis, has suffered with the Influenza within the past six weeks. Headaches, coughs, agues, swelled heads and fevers, are its natural offspring, and sweats, poulfices, blisters, herb tea, ipecac and senna, the weapons wherewith to destroy them. Mrs Snooks, how I sneeze-my eyes are painful and my head aches. - Mr Snooks, you have got the Influenza-you must go to bed early and take a sweat-if your lungs are sore, have a blister upon your chest, and a mustard seed poultice on the back of your neck for the headache-soak your feet in warm water, and you will feel better to-morrow. Thus is a poor fellow stewed in hot water, plastered with smoking dough, fly-blown (blistered) and his body converted into a steam-generator, in his contest with the common enemy of his race, the Influenza. There is no dodging it-no coaxing it-it must be met with the weapons aforesaid, or, per Hercle, ten chances to one you are its victim-we are just from the arena ourself, but the Edile has not yet decided which is the victor.

The Trial of Marcy, Mason, and Blaisdell, is progressing at Cambridge. Mr De Gilste, examined on Saturday, saw a man set fire to the ice house-thinks Mason is the man. D. J. Coburn (Dep. Sheriff,) arrested Mason, who confessed he had taken a few pictures from the Convent -and upon being pressed, acknowledged he had a piece of plate taken from the same place, which he subsequently produced. Thomas J. Cornell heard Mason relate some of the circumstances relative to the fire the next morning; the prisoner spoke of the transaction as a person looking on; the library at the Bishop's Lodge was thrown out of doors -prisoner said he took up one of the books and proclaimed 12 1-2 cents, said nothing about taking up another. Prisoner had some beads, which he said he found there. Several other witnesses saw Marcy and Mason at the fire, but did not see them take any part in the destruction of the property.

The South Carolina Test Oath Bill has passed the Senate of that State by a vote of 32 to 11. It passed the House by a vote of 90 to 28. More than two-thirds in both cases. The provision will therefore be incorporated into the State Constitution, having been approved by two successive Legislatures, and by the people.

Mr Matthews will publish the second volume of his Comic Annual at the Tremont Theatre, this evening .-He will also appear in a new entertainment, called The Lone House, in which he will personate five characters.

Mr Harrington's exhibitions at Julien Hall are well attended, and give universal satisfaction. He is truly a master of his art -and has the power, as Fathom says in the play, to "twist and turn a matter into any other kind of matter, and then twist and turn it back

Mrs Duff took a benefit at the Front street theatre Baltimore, a few days since. The citizens generally interested themselves in her favor, and the result was dead. The father, when discovered, was still alive, that every nook and corner of the house was filled to

A Handsome Compliment .- The Journeymen Coopers of Philadelphia have presented to President JACKSON a pitcher, consisting of 750 staves, and made from a part of the Elm tree under which the treaty between William Penn and the Aborigines was concluded.

The Swigs are terribly "distressed" for an "available candidate" for the Presidency .- A liberal reward bly convened, That the immediate resignation of Senwill be paid for any suggestions calculated to help them out of their trouble.

The Salem Gazette states that Mr Silsbee, whose voters of this State. Senatorial term expires with the present session of Congress, will decline a re-election.

Municipal Court, Dec. 13 .- Susan Wiggin, the girl who stole dresses and jewelry in the dwelling house of Mr Hayward, in Hayward place, having pleaded guilty, was brought up for sentence. She stated to the family where the offence was committed, that she came from Burnham, in the State of Maine. She has stated that she had an accomplice, but this is doubted. She was arrested by Constable Clapp, in Wrentham, and most of the property has been restored to the owner. U. S. Squadron in the Mediterranean .- From an officer of the frigate United States, arrived at row at one o'clock, was fixed upon for the appointment this port on Wednesday, we derive the following information.

The United States sailed from Toulon, after her summer's cruize in the Archipelago, for Port Mahon, on the 24th of September. Encountering a severe gale, however, the next day, off Scio, she ran back into the Bay of Smyrna till the morning of the 26th-then leaving the Gulf, landed her pilots at Milo on the 27th, and on the 28th bade adien to the Archi-

On the 4th of October, off Malta, she fell in with the ship of the line Delaware, bearing the flag of Commodore Patterson, on her return from the coast of Egypt and Syria. The two ships left Malta in company the next day for Minorca, and arrived at Mahon on the 9th of the same month. The Schooner Shark, Capt. Paulding, had preceded the Delaware from Beyrout to Malta, and sailed from that island for Tunis the same day the Delaware and United States left for Mahon. After touching on the coast of Africa, she reached Minorca on the 13th of Oct., and was followed in her arrival, the same night, by the sloop John Adams, Capt. Conner, from the U. States, by the way of Madeira-completing the number of vessels constituting the squadron. The officers and respective crews of the ships were then all in good health.

The first news communicated at Mahon to the Delaware and the United States was the departure, five days previous, of the frigate Constellation, Capt. Read, for home, with the cholera on board. The health officers of the Port, at the same time, stated that a greater degree cf sickness than usual had existed for some weeks past in the town, but denied any malignancy in its nature, and reported an almost entire restoration of health to the inhabitan's.

Little apprehension, consequently, was felt for the safety of the squadron, till the occurrence, on the sixth day afterwards, of a decided and fatal case of Cholera on board of the United States, gave proof of the existence of a pestilential atmosphere. Another of a similar character and issue among the same crew, one or two on board the Delaware and the John Adams, with the rapid sickening of each ship's company, in the course of two or three days, led the surgeons of the squadron to advise the putting to sea immediately of all the ships. The John Adams accordingly sailed on the 21st of the month for Marseilles, while all despatch was made to prepare the United States for a homeward passage. She left Mahon on the 26th of October, passed the rock of Gibraltar on the night of the 28th, and on the 20th of November had arrived within a few days' sale of New York. Since then, till within a day or two, she has encountered an uninterrupted succession of heavy and adverse gales, and has slowly accomplished the latter

Commodore Patterson and family, and the officers of the Delaware and Shark, were all well. The crew of the schooner also continued perfectly healthy, and unless the disease became more general in the ship's company of the Delaware, she would not leave Mahon for some time.

The medical skill of Dr Rapelye, Surgeon of the United States, and of Assistant Surgeon Spencer, was most successfully exercised during the sickness on board that ship, and by the most assiduous and indefatigable attentions day and night, the pestilence, happily, was soon stayed in its ravages and its power overcome .-Three deaths only occurred out of some hundred and thirty cases, after the ship left port,-making, with two, while still at anchor, five in all. Though the whole ship's company were more or less affected at the time of leaving Mahon, in less than a week all on board were restored to their usual health, and every evidence of disease had disappeared .- Jour. Com.

Alabama .- We subjoin resolutions which have been introduced into the Legislature of Alabama, and have no doubt passed by a large majority. The Hon.
